JOINT PRESS RELEASE

JOINT PURCHASING CORPORATION AND INFOPRO GROUP, INC. SIGN A THREE-YEAR CONTRACT FOR MEDICAL TRANSCRIPTION SERVICES

For Immediate Release

NEW YORK, April 11, 2003 – Joint Purchasing Corporation (JPC), an innovative health services organization, and InfoPro Group, Inc., a medical transcription and health information management company, announced today that they have signed a three-year agreement for medical transcription services. The contract will provide JPC and its 2,500 participants with a flexible, cost-effective solution to their medical transcription needs.

InfoPro offers a complete transcription process management program tailored to the individual needs of each JPC participant, at a pricing structure sensitive to the budgetary constraints of healthcare institutions. The three-year agreement provides JPC participants access to InfoPro's advanced technology infrastructure, personalized service and support, a dictation platform that combines ease of use with accessibility, significant financial savings, and increased staff and physician productivity.

"At JPC, we are dedicated to delivering our customers a competitively priced contract portfolio that offers products and services designed to help them cut costs and improve efficiencies," said Robert B. Doll, Chairman and Interim CEO of JPC. "InfoPro's products will provide our customers with a valuable service that will offer them solutions to meet their transcription and health information management needs. We welcome InfoPro and look forward to working with them."

"InfoPro is proud of the agreement that we have entered into with JPC," said Richard L. Collins, President and CEO of InfoPro Group, Inc. "Our services will assist JPC's participants in increasing overall productivity and reducing overhead expenditures involved in the transcription process. We are confident that we can provide JPC and its participants with state-of-the-art, customized transcription solutions combined with technology and service unmatched in the industry."
